

Make a Difference: Become a Teacher New Master of Arts in Teaching Cohort in Rockford

Spring 2017

Do you have your bachelor's degree but can't shake the feeling that you were meant to be a teacher? Good news! The NIU Department of Literacy and Elementary Education is starting a new Rockford cohort for our Master of Arts in Teaching starting in January 2017.

This program is designed for people just like you - college graduates ready to trade their current careers for the noble profession of teaching future generations.

Please join us for an information session to learn more:

Thursday, November 17
5 p.m.

NIU Rockford Campus, Room 200
8500 E. State Street
Rockford, IL 61108

NORTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

Department of Literacy and Elementary Education

College of Education

Please RSVP to Brenda Kehm at bkehm@niu.edu;

For more information, call Nick Slicer at 815-753-7948 or visit cedu.niu.edu/leed